

High Speed ISDN Internet Access

What is Pathway's ISDN Internet Service?

Pathway Communications offers high-speed 128kb/s Internet access, available to businesses, on a 24 hours a day basis. This Internet service is provided over a special ISDN (Integrated Services Digital Network) digital phone line which has two channels, each capable of 64Kbps data transfer. The two lines are bonded together to provide speeds of 128kb/s. A typical analog modem transfers data at approximately 44Kbps – about a third of the speed of Pathway's 128K ISDN service.

A host of useful features

Pathway's 128kb/s ISDN Internet access is available starting at $199 per month – making it the best priced dedicated (full-time) Internet service pricing in the city. Besides price and enhanced speed, Pathway's ISDN service is far more reliable than dial up analog access and includes static IP addresses. This offers you increased control and the flexibility of running your own servers at your own office.

Pathway's dedicated ISDN high-speed service also includes value-added options for your business - 100 MB of space for your web site, 40 e-mail accounts (@yourcompany.com), router rental or purchase and hassle-free on-site installation by Pathway's qualified technicians. A complimentary unlimited dial-up account for on-the-road access to the Internet (and those important emails) is also included. Technical support is always just a phone call away.

What do you need?

You will need an active ISDN telephone line from Bell Canada or your local telephone company. The ISDN phone service is subject to availability and is not included in Pathway's Internet access pricing. Instructions on ordering ISDN lines are available from your Pathway sales representative.
